New Roses Are Blooming at Zak in 2010

Spokane, WA (May 24, 2010) – This year Zak Designs is introducing two new ways to bring the world’s most famous flower into homes. The Rose Colander and Rose Trivet are the latest editions to Zak’s popular Garden Series and, like the other products in the line, prove that functionality is always in fashion.

The Rose Colander is a 24oz colander that’s perfect for fresh fruit, individual pasta dishes or other small servings. The smaller size makes it easy to store, but the fun design will make it at home on the countertop. Each colander features sculpted petals blooming from the base where the draining holes create a whirlwind design reminiscent of the center of a rose.

The equally lifelike design of the Rose Trivet makes it look more like a centerpiece than a trivet, but the durable 100% melamine construction and non-skid base leaves no doubts about its functionality. The Rose Trivets are available in four festive colors – red, raspberry, poppy and sun. In addition to those colors, the Rose Colanders are also available in white.

Whether you’re trying to add more fun to the functionality of your kitchen, or simply want to complement your existing Garden Series collection, the Rose Colander and Trivet are the perfect picks.
